In cases where the number of workplaces is not over 5, go to Q24-1 on page 19. Otherwise, use a supplementary sheet.

(Only for those who were unemployed at the time of the previous survey)

Q21-1 At the time of the previous survey (February-March, 2013), you did not have a paying job. Since then, have you had a paying job?

Q21-2 [Hand Card 24] When did you start working at that work place?
In cases of starting self-employment or helping in the family business, include the work if the work provides income.

(If there is a period during which a respondent cannot sure which was a main job, go to the table on page 15.)

Q21-3 [Hand Card 24] Do you still work at the place? In case an organization to which you belonged experienced M&A (merger and acquisition), or in case a workplace to which you were dispatched shifted, please consider such cases as a job change. If you have been registered at a temporary personnel agency, please tell us a period only when you actually worked. If your workplace has changed, when did it change?

Q21-4 (For cases of changes in workplace or currently being unemployed) Did you leave your workplace under personal circumstances or company circumstances?

(Skip this question and go to question 21-5 if you are continuing this work)

Changing workplaces due to mergers and acquisitions is considered company circumstances.

Q21-5 [Hand Card 24] Have you had another side-job while you work at that work place? Is so, please choose all that apply.

Q21-6 Have you worked at this place before?

(Repeat this series of questions in the same way for jobs after second job. Go to next question when you asked the series of questions for all the jobs a respondent had.)

It would be no problem if the end date of the previous job and the start date of the next job overlap. However, if the respondent had multiple jobs at the same time, ask the respondent to answer on the main job. Maternal leave, childcare leave, and sick leave should be included in the working period.

Write in the margin if a respondent have 4 or more jobs.
